

Dr. Stephan Sargent

Congressional District 1 Committee-Member

Stephan was graduated from Oklahoma State University with a bachelor's in education and a minor in science education. He then taught elementary school for years in Ponca City. His mother was also a Ponca City teacher before him. He was graduated from the University of Tulsa with a master's in school counseling and is an active member at Holy Family Cathedral Catholic Church in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

He has taught developmental reading to adults, reading methods courses, study skills courses, and served as a reading specialist. Later, he began work at Northeastern State University as a professor of reading methods. He currently teaches graduate and undergraduate courses in reading methods and works extensively in the NSU Reading Clinic.

He is working closely with area schools, teaching most of his courses in clinical settings. He works with school accreditation at all levels. He currently works as a volunteer to assist public schools with accreditation and reviews graduate reading programs for the Council for the Accreditation of Education Preparation -CAEP.

Stephan works extensively with Quality Matters, the recognized body that certifies on-line courses for P-12 and higher education. He is a member of the OKGOP Committee on Education.
